AIM AND SCOPE

Historiographia Linguistica (HL) serves the ever growing community of scholars interested in the history of the sciences concerned with language such as linguistics, philology, anthropology, sociology, philosophy, pedagogy, psychology, neurology, and other disciplines.

Central objectives of HL are the critical presentation of the origin and development of particular ideas, concepts, methods, schools of thought or trends, and the discussion of the methodological and philosophical foundations of a historiography of the language sciences, including its relationship with the history and philosophy of science.

HL is published in 3 issues per year of about 450 pages altogether. Each volume contains a dozen articles or more, at least one review article or a bibliography devoted to a particular topic, a great number of reviews and review notes as well as information on recent or forthcoming activities and events in the field.

MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts submitted for publication in Historiographia Linguistica should be in English, French, or German; occasionally, contributions in other languages using Latin script may also be considered. Manuscripts should be in 3 copies to allow for a speedy review process; authors are advised to retain the original typescript. Later electronic submission will be welcomed.

Before sending a manuscript, contributors should familiarize themselves with the style adopted in HL, as manuscripts deviating significantly from its conventions may be returned without being evaluated for their contents. For details, see the HL Style Sheet as printed in HL XVII:1/2 (1990). Particular attention should be paid to the conventions employed in the presentation of data and the citation of sources, for which a recent issue of the journal should be consulted. The same applies to bibliographical references. An HL Style Sheet is available from the editors upon request.
